Cattle numbers jump once more in Appomattox

By JAMES A. SMITH
Extension Agent

This week's report from the Virginia Crop Reporting Service shows that cattle numbers took another jump January 1, 1980, in Appomattox County. Dairy cows and heifers went from 1200 to 1800, a 33% increase. Beef numbers moved from 16,300 last year to 17,100 this year. This is the highest number of beef cattle.

As recent as 1964 there were only 7600 head of all species, while in 1959 there were 2800 head of milk cows. This gives a quick over-view of changing life styles and the kind of agriculture that we have. Few farmers keep a dairy cow, while farming is becoming more extensive and we move to the cow-calf type of agriculture.

Last week blue mold was reported in North and South Carolina. The damp, cool weather that we have had is nearly ideal for blue mold development here.

It is essential that all growers do a good job of protecting plants with fungicide. After each rain we need to go back and re-apply the protectant.

Remember, we need to be informed of any suspicion of blue mold in the plant bed – just give us a call.

This past week we mailed fire-cured tobacco production guides to all producers – be sure to read about the prevention of tobacco mosaic virus (TMV). It takes some effort, but it can be done. We get calls on it every year. The time to stop it is at transplanting.

Midland Bermudagrass sprigs are available at $1.50 a bushel and Tifton 44 at $3.00 a bushel. Rental equipment is available for planting. The estimated cost of planting Midland is $60.00 per acre and $110.00 for Tifton 44.

We need to get some more of this summer grazing available to the beef herds and it's a good bet for running dairy heifers and dry cows.

There's a new ag publication called Farmline available fro USDA. Cost is $10.00 annually. It carries wide-ranging articles, will report and analyze key developments in major farm commodities, foreign trade, farm finances, rural life, resource use, productivity, policy, real estate, transportation and other subjects. Recent work (1975 -1978) at the University of Tennessee on the response of foliar fertilizer on soybean yield has been reported. The researchers concluded: no positive yield responses were obtained in any of these many experiments at the Milan Field Station. From the results of these studies, it appears that foliar fertilization of soybeans under Tennessee conditions will not improve yields.

Tips on tightening the belt

Fighting inflation

How are you fighting inflation?

With the inflation rate risirg seven per cent annually, what are you doing to battle the budget crunch?

Why not try some of the following suggestions?

(1) Purchase fabric when on sale and construct that much needed or wanted clothing item.

(2) Make your own baby food. For specific help and hints on doing this, you may write or call your local Extension Office.

(3) Use less paper products. Look carefully at what you spend per month on paper towels, napkins and cups. How can you cut this cost and live just as conveniently? Remember the dishwasher will hold several more glasses and the washing machine a few more towels and perma-press napkins.

(4) Eat at home rather than driving out to a restaurant. Persons cooking for ones and twos can save many food dollars, if meals are carefully planned, prepared and used. Make use of your freezer and do your own TV dinners. This will cut the urge to drive out and spent on eating out.

(5) Involve your children in family financial planning. For example, help them understand the cost of food, clothing and housing. A better understanding will exist and a valuable lesson will have been taught if the entire family is involved.

(6) Cut out junk foods when grocery shopping. This will not only improve the food consumption pattern, but will also cut down on the high grocery bills.

(7) Use vinegar, soda, chlorine bleach and amonia for household cleaning chores. For specific information and correct usage, call or write the local extension office for this help.

As you work to fight the inflation bite in your family budget, please share your tested and tried ideas with our office. Please call 352-8244 or write P. O. Box 488, for information or with your inflation fighting ideas.
